English:

Please read the following story below and then I would like you to continue with a 'free write' in a similar style. I know you will be able to write some amazing short stories!

The Lion and the Mouse

A lion was asleep in his lair and was woken up by a mouse running over his face. Losing his temper, he seized it with his paw and was about to kill it. The mouse, terrified, piteously entreated him to spare its life. "Please let me go," it cried, "and one day I will repay you for your kindness." The idea of so insignificant a creature ever being able to do anything for him amused the lion so much that he laughed aloud, and good-humouredly let it go. But the mouse's chance came, after all. One day the lion got entangled in a net which had been spread for game by some hunters, and the mouse heard and recognised his roars of anger and ran to the spot. Without more ado it set to work to gnaw the ropes with its teeth and succeeded before long in setting the lion free. "There!" said the mouse, "you laughed at me when I promised I would repay you: but now you see, even a mouse can help a lion.

Have a go at this maths paper. If you are unable to download this then please, try to work on telling the time with a digital clock and analogue. We will be working on this in lessons next week.

Design and Technology:

Remember the designs you made for a musical instrument a few weeks ago? While you are at home, I would like you to see if you can make the instrument you designed on paper. Use any recycling objects you may have at home.

Best wishes
