Read through your description from Friday for your explorer's story. Draft your story using the ideas you have collected so far and use the following structure to help you:

- Description of the explorer and their preparation for the trip – what are they taking with them? How have they prepared? What/how are they feeling?
- Description of their journey and the setting – describe the weather. What is the landscape like? Think about using the five senses here to help you build your description.
- Problem/main event on your explorer's journey – how can you use sentence structure to make this event create an impact and excitement for the reader?
- Resolution – how does the journey/tragedy end? Is it a dramatic ending? Will there be a plot twist? How does your explorer feel at the end? Will they survive?

Calculations – money

Write a word problem for which this calculation is used to find the answer.

$$£9.67 + £8.22 = £17.89$$

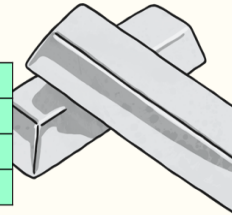

$$£3.49 + £5.75 = £9.24$$

$$£17.89 - £9.24 = £8.65$$

Check your problem with a partner.
What mistakes might someone make when trying to solve the problem?

Precious metals are sold by mass. Here is a table showing the price for 1g of each metal.

Metal	Price per Gram

Silver	£0.50
Platinum	£27.29

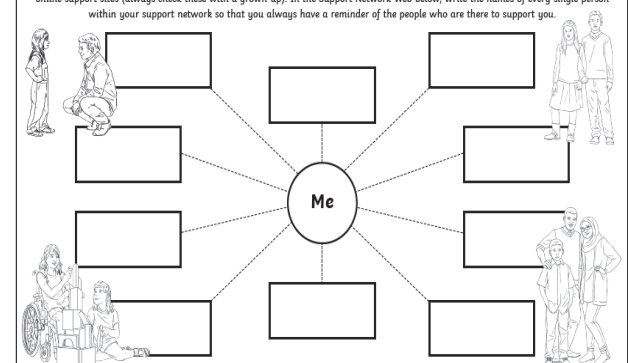

1. Calculate the difference in price between 1g of gold and 1g of platinum.
2. How many grams of silver would cost the same as 3g of gold.

PSHE

When you are looking after your own wellbeing, it is important to realise how much other people can help and support you. As well as this, you can be there to support and help others. Often, focusing on other people can benefit your own wellbeing, as it helps you to feel good and positive. Helping other people can make you feel needed and your support for them creates a support network for you when, or if, you need it. It is important to reach out to others and say when you need help and support. Remember, other people will feel good from helping you

Support Networks

Think about the people who are there to support you. This could be family members, friends, teachers, other adults, support workers or online support sites (always check these with a grown-up). In the Support Network Web below, write the names of every single person within your support network so that you always have a reminder of the people who are there to support you.

WEEK 8 – Year 5

For each sentence below, state whether they are a question, command or statement.

1. He liked the sandwich I made for him
2. Can I go to the toilet
3. Wow
4. Please wait over there
5. Do you know the way to Florida
6. Go outside and wash your shoes
7. Eat that cake now
8. I may like to come with you tomorrow

Now pick ! ? or . to end each sentence.

Editing and redrafting:

Read over your story from yesterday and reflect:

- What went well?
- What can be improved?
- Have you applied punctuation accurately?
- Have you used a range of sentence starters?
- Is there any more information that you can add to your story for your audience?

Once you have edited your draft, redraft it. Remember to use this opportunity to practice your handwriting too, particularly joining letters.

WEEK 8 – Year 5

Look at the underlined words. Which are nouns and which are adjectives? Make two lists in your books.

I thought the play was boring but James said he was excited when he listened to the songs.

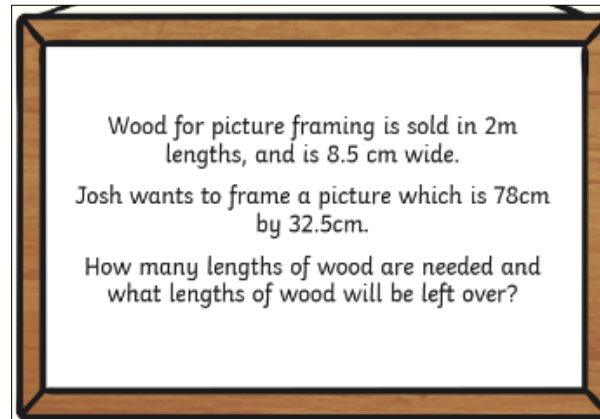

Carefully I opened the box. Inside I found a red hat and a blue coat.

Yesterday I bought: a new pencil; 15 handmade cookies; a selection of pens and a large grapefruit.

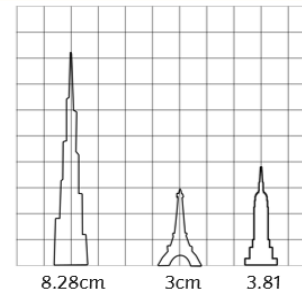

Read the following paragraph from the first chapter of Call of the Wild. Use your imagination to sketch/draw a picture of the setting where Buck grew up. Label it with quotes from the text as evidence.

Buck lived at a big house in the sun-kissed Santa Clara Valley. Judge Miller's place, it was called. It stood back from the road, half hidden among the trees, through which glimpses could be caught of the wide cool veranda that ran around its four sides. The house was approached by gravelled driveways which wound about through widespreading lawns and under the interlacing boughs of tall poplars. At the rear things were on even a more spacious scale than at the front. There were great stables, where a dozen grooms and boys held forth, rows of vine-clad servants' cottages, an endless and orderly array of outhouses, long grape arbors, green pastures, orchards, and berry patches. Then there was the pumping plant for the artesian well, and the big cement tank where Judge Miller's boys took their morning plunge and kept cool in the hot afternoon.

Measurement – centimetres

Here are 3 famous tall buildings.

*not to scale

Draw the respective heights of the three buildings using the same scale. For example 1cm:100m (1:10 000)

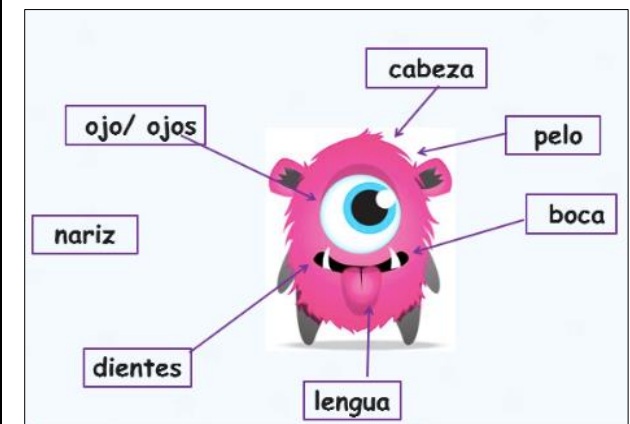

Spanish

How many parts of the face can you remember?

Can you label a member of your family using post-it notes or paper and sellotape?

Challenge/Reto: Can you draw your own creature and label the parts of the face? An example is shown below to help you.

WEEK 8 – Year 5

Write down the number of verbs in each sentence.

1. Ben enjoyed watching TV.
2. Suzy enjoyed watching TV while eating cake.
3. I like playing football with Raj on the field.
4. He is huge!
5. Eating cake is one of my favourite hobbies!
6. Quietly she wondered into the hall while it was dark.
7. I am being very noisy today!
8. My dog and I are enjoying our walk.

Read the following summary of Chapter 1 from Call of the Wild:

At present, Buck is a trusting dog, and he has no idea what fate holds for him; therefore, he has no inkling of Manuel's treachery: "he had learned to trust in men he knew, and to give them credit for a wisdom that outweighed his own." But now that Buck is tied by the throat by strangers and is treated violently, he becomes enraged, and in his "unbridled anger," he closes his jaws on the hand of the man who is holding him, and Buck does not let go until he is tied around the throat so tightly that his senses are choked out of him and he collapses.

Eventually, Buck regains consciousness, but every time he resists his tormenters, he is thrown down and choked repeatedly. He is totally confused by the meaning of such brutality from these strange men and is "oppressed by the vague sense of impending calamity."

As the men gradually proceed to file off Judge Miller's heavy brass collar from Buck's neck, we realize that these men are filing off the last vestige of civilization. Afterward, Buck is thrown into a cage.

Measurement

Here are the main ingredients for making chocolate chip cookies:

350g flour
225g butter
175g caster sugar
175g soft brown sugar
300g chocolate
2 eggs

Sam has 5 eggs to make some cookies. How much of the other ingredients is required? Write your answer in kilograms.

Challenge 1

Janine needs to fill a bucket with 2 litres (2000ml) of water. She has bottles which hold the following amounts:

200ml, 250ml, 500ml, 750ml

Give two different ways that Janine can fill the bucket (you may use each container more than once).

Art

Children's book author and illustrator, Rob Biddulph, is running draw-along videos every Tuesday and Thursday at 10am which you can follow along, using a pencil and paper. Build your art skills by following the link below and selecting which one (or more) of the drawings you would like to do:

Be sure to share your work for your Gordon friends to see!

WEEK 8 – Year 5

At Seattle, Buck is delivered into the hands of a "stout man with a red sweater and a club." To this man, Buck seems to be hardly a dog; the man calls Buck a "truly red-eyed devil," and again and again, Buck attempts to attack the man in the red sweater; as a result...

Your task is to plan the next few paragraphs of the story, describing the action scene between Buck and the man in the red sweater as Buck manages to free himself from the cage. Think about:

- Description of each character – blood-shot eyes, stout man
- Buck's feelings of anger
- Powerful verbs that describe Buck's actions

You can plan your writing as you wish – e.g. mind map, story mountain, comic strip.

WEEK 8 – Year 5

Find the verbs and the adverbs below. Make two lists on your whiteboard.

Casually, Raj strolled into the room and looked slowly around.

Running quickly, Sally escaped from the galloping horse. She tripped carelessly on a fallen log.

Whilst out for a winter jog, Manjip was very tired.

Now write any question in your book.

Today, you are going to use your plan from yesterday to write the fight scene between Buck and the man in the red sweater. Some things to include in your writing include:

- Short and long sentences for effect – e.g. He attacked. He attacked hard.
- Conjunctions, adverbs and prepositions to express when something happened – e.g. Just then, suddenly, eventually
- Direct speech – what sort of conversation might be taking place between the characters? Think about how they are feeling at that moment.
- Fronted adverbials
- Onomatopoeia – e.g. bang, burst, crash, bang, boom

More examples with description:

He smiled grimly.

With a roar as loud as...

The red-eyed devil...

Madness. Absolute madness.

Measurement – millilitres and litres

Challenge 2

Lucien needs to fill a bucket with 1 litre 500ml (1500ml). He has containers which hold the following amounts:

100ml, 200ml, 250ml, 300ml.

Give two different ways that Lucien can fill the bucket (you may use each container more than once).

Challenge 3

Siobhan needs to fill a bucket with 2 litres 500ml (2500ml). She has containers which hold the following amounts:

250ml, 300ml, 500ml, 750ml

Give two different ways that Siobhan can fill the bucket (you may use each container more than once).

PSHE

Copy the title only and complete in your books.
